SUDDEN DEATH

A CONSIDERABLE STORY

It was a dark, stormy night in the small town of Millersburg, Ohio, when a young man named John Doe was found dead in his bed. The police were called to the scene, and they found the body in a state of complete shock. The doctor who examined the body was baffled by the cause of death. It was a sudden death, and the only thing that was unusual about it was that John Doe was a healthy, young man with no known medical conditions.

The police were puzzled by the case, and they began to investigate. They talked to John's friends and family, and they found out that John had been feeling a bit off lately. He had been having trouble sleeping, and he had been feeling a bit more nervous than usual. But he had never mentioned anything to anyone, and he had never seen a doctor.
